DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

Figures 3-4 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2 and 5-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Eki et al. (Eki), U.S. Patent 5,843,291.

Eki discloses the claimed water heater comprising heat exchange means for heating supplied water, and electrolytic water generating means, wherein a removing operation of scale having salt as main ingredient deposited in a water pipe of said heat exchange means is carried out using produced water of said electrolytic water generating means (see col. 6, line 27 to col. 7, line 51). The reference further treats the scale when the temperature is low (see col. 7, line 42-47). The reference further discloses that the alkaline water is combined with the acid water and discharged, since the reversal of polarities would combine the alkaline and acidic waters (see col. 6).

Therefore, the claims are rejected.

Claims 1, 2 and 5-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Eki et al. ('562), U.S. Patent 5,853,562.

The '562 patent discloses the claimed water heater comprising heat exchange means for heating supplied water, and electrolytic water generating means, wherein a removing operation of scale having salt as main ingredient deposited in a water pipe of said heat exchange means is carried out using produced water of said electrolytic water generating means (see col. 6, line 23 to col. 7, line 65). The reference further treats the scale when the time is totalized (see col. 10). The reference further discloses that the alkaline water is combined with the acid water and discharged, since the reversal of polarities would combine the alkaline and acidic waters (see col. 6).

Accordingly, the claims are rejected.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 3-4, 6-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Eki or '291 as applied to claims above, and further in view of Iwamura, Japanese patent abstract 08-117745.

The Eki patents do not disclose that the electrolytic water is used to regenerate cation and anion exchangers as claimed. The Iwamura reference discloses the use of electrolytic water comprising acidic and alkaline water to regenerate ion exchanger as claimed (see Abstract).

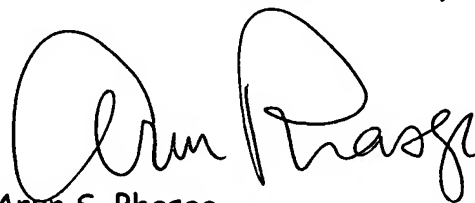

Consequently, the invention as a whole would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the disclosure of the Eki patents in view of Iwamura, because the Iwamura reference teaches that such modification to use the alkaline and acidic waters produced by electrolysis to regenerate ion exchangers used to soften water.
